

Are ALL of OUR Children Well?

A Candid Conversation & Town Hall

In 2014 the death of Michael Brown catalyzed an intentional movement to advance equity for St. Louis youth. An appointed group of leaders (the Ferguson Commission) conducted a study of the social and economic conditions stifling progress, equity and safety in the region. The Commission's report recommended key areas of focus that place "Youth at the Center."

- Support Early Childhood Education
- Increase Access to Care for Children
- Reform School Discipline Policies
- End Hunger for Children and Families
- Revise School Accreditation System
- Create an Innovation Education Hub

Join us for a conversation about the status of equitable education in St. Louis, with Rev. Dr. Starsky Wilson, co-chair of the Ferguson Commission, and local leaders in education.

- What has been accomplished?
- What is yet to be done?
- What is our call to action?
- What can you do?

Thursday, September 19, 2019
John Burroughs School
755 Price Road
Haertter Hall
7:00 pm

Rev. Dr. Starsky Wilson
Co-Chair, Ferguson Commission
President, Deaconess Foundation

Dr. Kelvin Adams
Superintendent
St. Louis Public Schools

Andy Abbott
Head of School
John Burroughs School

Valerie Bell
Board Member
National Network of Schools in Partnership